OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 8, 1865.

A Good Nomination.

The Union Convention of Washington Territory that met a few days since at Claquato, with a pleasant harmony happily indicative of future success, on the first ballot succeeded in deciding upon Arthur A. Denny, the present Register of the Land Office at Olympia, as their nominee for Congress.

There were several other good names before the Convention. Judge Wyche, of Vancouver, was one, and Elwood Evans, Esq., the Acting Governor, was another. Had either of these gentlemen been nominated, we believe the action of the Convention would have been heartily endorsed by the people, for in our opinion the voters of Washington are ready to elect any good Union man to Congress, in preference to taking another two years' dose of Democracy.

There are several reasons why the present nominee is available and perhaps preferable to any other that could be selected. As a man, his excellent qualities and popularity are unquestionable. His long residence in the Territory—since 1852, we believe—gives him all the claim an old resident can have, as such, while it has also given the people time and opportunity to know his qualities as a man. Appreciating his sterling worth, the Convention have selected him as the standard-bearer of true Unionism in Washington, and with the same appreciation the people will ratify their action by electing him to a position where practical common sense and the rare article of common honesty will do more to advance their interests than brilliant qualities without the accompaniment of good common sense.

Mr. Denny's home is at Seattle where he was a prominent and influential merchant, until the last four years, during which he has resided at Olympia and ably filled the position of Register in the Land Office there. All his antecedents in Washington are in his favor, and we greet his nomination as in itself an assurance that the Union party will make a good fight and win a victory.

Our predilection for Mr. Denny is based somewhat upon acquaintance with his family. His father, John Denny, resided for many years in Marion county, where he was always highly appreciated. The old gentleman was the most available candidate against the Democratic party then in its palmiest days, and could crowd them harder than any one else, because he would always run far ahead of his ticket; as a man of good sense and effective qualities on the stump he had few equals. We understand that the son possesses the same excellent qualities, the same popular regard and the full amount of useful and unpretending worth; and our friends in Washington can depend on receiving from us all the aid we can tender to secure them the success they ought to win, and their cause and candidate deserve.

Do you think there is any balm in Gilead, or do you know of any physician that would be applicable to the present case? Our old physic ans are heavy on the Union, and prescribed last evening a general illumination, with anvil artillery. Accordingly, every Union house on Main street was illuminated, and one hundred rounds of anvil were fired as a demonstration of joy by the Union folks, with an addition of three guns for Grant, Sherman and Little Phil. The secesh neither lit up their houses or their faces, and some of the latter looked as if they had entered into the chimney-sweep business—they were so intolerably black.

Another gives us the following:

The spirit of rejoicing over the capture of Richmond and the near approach of peace, culminated here last night in an impromptu illumination. The suggestion was only made about dark, but Main street, and the river bank in front, were speedily lighted up with bonfires, and soon almost every store, office and dwelling in the business part of town, ablaze with lighted candles.

The boys got out the anvils, begged powder from the Union men and confiscated some belonging to one non-illuminated rebel, and fired about two hundred rounds. The people turned out, and until eleven o'clock, under the God-illumined heavens above, in the light of the glow around them, with hearts all fired with patriotic joy, promenaded the broad walks of Main street, blessing God that our country is yet one, undivided and free.

No. 3 talks follows:

Our flag hangs high these days for Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, and all our bully boys, who have made themselves apostles of Freedom and the Union, to convert rebels and traitors down about Richmond from the error of their ways, back to the friendly bosom of Uncle Samuel.

Last evening, candles flashed from windows in faint reflection of the brighter flame of patriotism burning in the hearts of our loyal men, women and children, while a sturdy pair of anvils did duty as a substitute for Union artillery.

Some of the most intelligent of the Southern persuasion in this place, meeting last evening for mutual consolation in considering the late news, another "Abolition lie," one of the crowd cracked a "gonk" on the balance, telling them they put him in mind of a story he had read somewhere of six foolish young women who were caught napping and couldn't illuminate.

No. two took issue, not on the figure of speech, that part hit the mark, but on the figure of the woman, affirming that there were seven of each sort. So having agreed that the story had probably come from the Bible somewhere, they found an old copy of that work, and beginning at Genesis, were searching patiently through, when a Union man came in, and the matter being referred to him the facts came out. This is an actual fact.

Yours for the Union, CLACKAMAS.

WINTER ON THE TOUCHET.—A subscriber who lives on the Touchet river, above Walla Walla, sends us a chronicle of the weather there from the 14th December last, to the 1st of this month. During that time snow seems to have fallen on ten different days, and the greatest fall was on the 3d of March, when seven inches fell—in all twenty-eight inches of snow fell at different times. During that time it has rained on nine different days: on the 13th and 14th of February, and in March seven days—from the 4th to the 6th inclusive, and from the 14th to the 16th inclusive. The lowest point reached by the mercury, taken at sunrise, was as follows for each month: Dec. 7th, 12°; Jan. 25th 2°; Feb. 5th, 16°; March 2d, 0, or zero; showing that the severest weather was experienced early in March. We are under obligation to Mr. S. H. Erwin for the table alluded to, which we will keep for a future reference.

MOBILE TAKEN.—The despatches we publish with this issue contain information that a movement against Mobile had commenced. As yet we have received no further particulars, but we learn by the kindness of the operators here that the word has been sent them by the operator at Marysville, as a matter of news that Mobile has been taken by our forces. This news, doubtless, came by a private dispatch to California, and thus had the precedence of the regular news telegram to the associated press, and we do not doubt its truth.

OIL WELLS IN CALIFORNIA.—Our exchanges from the South have always something to say about oil discoveries in California and Nevada, and name different localities where wells are being bored with prospect of success. It seems a fact that oil exists in different localities on this coast, and there is reason to anticipate from its home production, before long, an abundant supply at decrease of price.

DATES TO APRIL 3.

Fighting Before Richmond and Petersburg.

WASHINGTON, April 2d.—A letter from the Army of the Potomac, dated Friday morning, March 31st, says there has been severe fighting on some points of the line from morning until [illegible] [illegible] the advance of [illegible] [illegible], although at considerable [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] wounded. The second [illegible] [illegible] supported by the Third, with [illegible] toward the White Oak Road, east of the Boydton Plank road, and attempted to march [illegible]. After crossing a small branch of [illegible] Run, and while about forming line of battle, our troops were fired on by a heavy body of the enemy lying in the woods. Our men stood their ground for a while, when about the same time, a further attack was made on the right flank of the skirmishers, but a division of the 2d corps being posted here made a charge, and forced up the enemy and drove them back, capturing and wounding a good deal. The [illegible] then took the advance and drove the enemy back about a mile and a half, and long before dark, had reached the White Oak Road, to which they had stated in the morning, driving the rebels into the works at Hatcher's Run. Their loss during the day was not far from 2000.

Operations on Friday, March 31.

The Herald has the following account of our operations on Friday, 31st ultimo:

Our object in view to-day, was the White Oak road. The turnpike runs westward at an acute angle with the Boydton plank road, and connecting with the road approaching the South Side railroad. About daylight this morning, Warren commenced by pushing his column far in advance. Genl. Ayres division holding the right, Crawford the center and Griffin the left. At 8 o'clock all was ready, and in [illegible] they started ahead. The enemy proved to be in small force, and fell back slowly skirmishing. In this manner, they [illegible] [illegible] [illegible], when our skirmishers were checked, thrown back on the main line, stopping its advance.

The corps [illegible] itself confronted by a heavy force. Our forces charged but were forced back; the rebels pursuing but they in turn were repulsed with heavy loss. At half past one the fifth corps started the second time for the White Oak, and after a heavy fight reached it, having forced the enemy from a light line of works behind which they fought across the road. Our troops are now strongly entrenched and connected with the main line which stretches to that point. There is no probability from fragments of the Dispatch received from Richmond, that Johnson has repulsed the advance of Sherman toward that place, Raleigh [illegible] Goldsboro.

HEADQUARTERS, Army of the Potomac, April 1.—The greater portion of this army has not been engaged to-day. It has occupied works on the new line and have been repairing the road. The late rains rendered it impossible to move a wagon train as fast as the troops advanced. One train took fourteen hours to move five miles with the assistance of a thousand men.

Dispatch from the President—Greater Successes of Our Troops—12,000 Prisoners Captured.

CITY POINT, April 2, 2 P. M.—Everything has been carried from the left of the Ninth corps. The Sixth Corps at one o'clock A. M., captured more than 3,000 prisoners. The twenty fourth and Twenty fifth Corps both captured four guns and many prisoners from the enemy. We are now closing around the works and lines of the enemy and enveloping Petersburg. All looks remarkably well.

CITY POINT, April 2, 8 P. M.—To Stanton: At 4 o'clock to-day, Grant telegraphed as follows: We are now up and have a continuous line of troops, and in a few hours we will be entrenched from the Appomattox below Petersburg to the river above. The whole captures since the fight started will not amount to less than 12,000 men and probably fifty pieces of artillery. I don't know the number accurately. A portion of the twenty fourth corps made a gallant charge this afternoon and captured a very important fort from the enemy, with the entire garrison.

(Signed) LINCOLN.

The Advance on Mobile.

The Herald's correspondent in front of Mobile under date of the 23d says: Smith's Sixteenth Corps accompanied by Gen. Canby's Staff, that day arrived at Danley Mills, on the north and south east of Mobile Bay, ten miles from it and 26 miles from Mobile. The Tenth Corps, under Gen. Granger, was expected to meet the Sixteenth Corps at Danley Mills. During the evening of 23d firing in the direction of Mobile was heard, and was supposed to be the monitors engaging the shore batteries.

New Orleans dates to the 25th have been received.

Fort Gaines letters of the 20th state that transports and gunboats were busily landing troops on the east side of Mobile Bay.

The War Ended.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Commercial's special dispatch says: It is believed that the war is over, and an understanding to that effect exists. The programme of Davis provides for all possible contingencies. We expect the evacuation of Richmond and Petersburg, and that Lee will find his retreat cut off. Grant, Sheridan, Thomas, Sherman and Hancock are closing around the fragments of the rebel army.

What Sheridan was Doing.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY POTOMAC, April 1.—A courier has just arrived from Sheridan, with the stirring news that the combined forces of cavalry and Warren's infantry, advanced upon the enemy this evening, driving them several miles and capturing about 4,000 prisoners and several pieces of artillery. They retreated to their works which were flanked by a part of the corps which passed down White Oak road. The rebels then retreated south along the course of the White Oak road, vigorously pursued by Sheridan, while McKenzie's cavalry, from the Army of the James, advanced toward the Ford road, and when the messenger left was only three miles from it.

The last great line of railroad which the rebels have to supply the Capital, and Lee's army is about used up.

Cannonading is now going on at the center of the one held by the left of the 6th corps.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Tribune's fifth corps special dispatch, dated the 29th ult., says: At 1 o'clock this morning, the 5th and 2d corps were put on the march upon the right of the enemy's line, the 5th moving up the Quaker road. Coming to a point called Skunk's Hole, and mounting the brow of the opposite slope, a breastwork was found which had been abandoned by the enemy. Passing about three-quarters of a mile beyond this point, the head of the column found the enemy's line in the edge of a thick pine wood, where a sudden heavy fire opened on our skirmish line. It was driven back on the line formed on the first brigade of the first division, which at first fell back, but on being supported by the second brigade, they rallied and drove back the enemy with some loss in prisoners. There Gen. Warren drew up the rest of the first and third divisions of the 5th corps in line in order to support an attack, Cogswell's lay in the water firing on the rebels wherever they could be seen.

The enemy passed around Mitchell and struck [illegible] and Fleming's brigades in the rear, pressing them so hard that they had to fight the breastworks to repel the assault. A man was captured who gave his name as [illegible], and was sent to the rear. Charges were made on other points, but our line never wavered anywhere. Finally the rebels massed for the last effort. This time they came up without their old familiar yell, and marched steadily on Robinson's five batteries. They were met with the most terrific fire ever witnessed, at which many of the gray mass raised their hands despondingly.

Their forces by great exertion and personal bravery, brought them on to some order till they reached a point where Hawley's brigade brought to bear on them a flank fire. This added to their misery; yet they stood it bravely, and came on. The five battalions then opened at a distance of less than seven hundred yards, throwing canister and shrapnel into the waving masses of rebels; the discharges were rapid, and the flashes of the guns seemed a steady blaze. At last the enemy broke and fled in confusion from the field. An hour later not a shot was heard along the line. After an hour or about three quarters of an hour the enemy retired out of range, leaving their dead and wounded on the field.

Fighting in North Carolina.

NEW YORK, April 1.—The Goldsboro, N. C., correspondent of the 27th says:

The rebels have 12,000 cavalry under Wheeler and Hampton, in our front. Yesterday they [illegible] three regiments within three miles of our post. Kilpatrick engaged part of this force yesterday, but the result is not known.

The Herald's correspondent gives additional details of the battle of Bentonville, N. C. Our line at 2 o'clock P. M., when all the troops were in position, was about two miles long. During the day the enemy made five grand attempts to pierce our line at different points. The first was made upon the point held by Cogswell's brigade and Morgan's second brigade. Hazen and Hoke led the charge.

The rebels moved forward gallantly, firing but little, as if determined to crush in our lines by their weight. They were received with a furious fire, but they bowed their heads, came on, penetrated between Cogswell's and Mitchell's and got on the rear of Mitchell's, but neither gave way. The fighting was terrible. Mitchell fought his brigade in the form of a parallel gram fighting on all sides.

Miscellaneous News.

HEADQUARTERS District of East Tennessee, Boone, March 27.—The advance of Stoneman's force, commanded by Major Keogh, [illegible], attacked and captured the town [illegible] at 12 o'clock to-day. Stoneman's command is now going North Carolina, and will be heard of soon in the heart of rebeldom.

TORONTO, April 1.—A dispatch from Montreal says: The money voted by Parliament has been paid to the St. Albans Banks.

NEW YORK, April 1.—Major Frank Pope, Assistant Engineer of Bulkley's Overland Telegraph Expedition to Russia, leaves this port on Monday, April 3d, for Sitka, where he will join Colonel Bulkley.

BALTIMORE, March 31.—The Washington mail train from here to Wheeling yesterday, was captured by guerillas. All the cars except five were burned, and all the passengers robbed.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 28.—A Yankee raiding column struck the Alabama and Florida railroad, twenty miles below here yesterday morning. The passenger train which left here on Thursday evening collided with the wreck. A train was also captured. Some of the passengers were wounded.

NEW YORK, 1st.—Richmond papers complain that the suspension of the habeas corpus act was issued by a trick of that Davis.

The Tribune's correspondent dated at Gravelly Run, night of the 29th, says: The move went on to-day of our original line, which extended on the left to Hatcher's Run, has been prolonged beyond the river westward across the Vaughan and Quaker Roads, northwest to within about two and a half miles of Dinwiddie Court House.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The steamer Nevada [illegible] from Wilmington 30th, reports that on the 21st, off Hatteras, she saw a steamer near shore on fire. It was the Gen. Lyon from Wilmington for Fortress Monroe, with troops and refugees on board. The wind was blowing a gale and the boats could not be launched but she went as near as possible and picked up as many as she could. The sufferers were taken to the hospital at Wilmington.

The Richmond Examiner of the 18th of February gives the particulars of the blowing up of the flag of truce boat Schultz by one of their own torpedoes, which are the same as already published, with the exception that it was previously thought all on board perished. The Examiner says:

Two negro firemen were killed by the explosion and two soldiers who had gone down as guards of the Yankee prisoners, were blown into the water and drowned. Two other of the guards were rescued from the water. There were some seven or eight of the Ambulance Committee on the Schultz at the time of the explosion who were saved on the wreck and taken from it by the boats of the Africa, and Mr. Andrew Johnson was thrown overboard, but swam back to the wreck as it floated past him.

The "Hammond rifle," invented by a Bridgeport mechanic of that name, is to be manufactured by the Hartford Arms Company, now just organized for business, says the Bridgeport Farmer.

We learn that a Hartford Company gives him $10,000 in gold, or its equivalent in paper, and $2 on each rifle manufactured, for the patent, and a salary of $2,000 as Superintendent of their manufactory. As the Company have an order for 200,000 of the rifles it will be seen that Hammond has a pretty good thing of it.

BRIGHAM YOUNG IN TROUBLE.—The Salt Lake Vedette records the fact of a member of Brigham's flock, an old lady, stopping him in the public street, and accusing him of cheating her out of the money he held belonging to her. The affair created quite an excitement in the city of the Saints. Fears are expressed that the old lady will be put out of the way by the band of Gideon.

A coal and oil excitement has lately broken out in Hartford county, Conn., in the various towns on both sides of Farmington river. The "coal region" is supposed to be on the north bank of the Farmington. Digging has begun, but as yet only surface coal has been obtained, although deeper working is expected to develop coal of a purer quality, and as many believe, oil or [illegible].

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.—The regular weekly meeting of the Council was held at the Council Chamber last evening. Mayor Failing was present and occupied the chair. The following members were present:

Messrs. Bennett, Frazer, Gilmore, Hoffman, McCraken. Minutes read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Frazar the rules were suspended and the Council went into an election for a member of the Third Ward, vice Israel Gradon resigned.

Mr. Gilmore nominated James P. O. Lownsdale, Esq., who was elected on the first ballot.

On motion of Mr. Frazar, the Marshal was sent to notify Mr. Lownsdale of his election, and request his acceptance of the same, when he soon appeared, qualified and took his seat.

Mr. J. C. Vanrensllier petitioned for a lease of two feet of Yamhill street, setting forth that so much of the street was now covered by his brick building on the south half of lot 4 block 3, and he wished to lay another story upon the top of the same.

On motion of Mr. McCraken, the matter of the petition and communication was referred to the committee on Judiciary.

A petition of Messrs. A. C. R. Shaw, F. A. Marquam and others, relative to the grade of Front Street was referred to the Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Petitions requesting lamp posts to be set at the corner of Yamhill and Front and Alder and Front Streets were received, and the Street Commissioner authorized to place the posts as requested.

A warrant for $54 and over was authorized in favor of E. J. Northrup, to pay a deficiency incurred in the funds for defraying the expenses of the celebration on Thursday night.

Messrs. Church, Marquam and others petitioned for a fire cistern to be constructed at the junction of Mill or Montgomery street, on Front, which was referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

Mr. E. M. Burton was granted the use of half of Stark street, between Front and First, for the term of thirty days in building.

[The subject of the improvement of Front street was taken up and a long time consumed in its consideration, which protracted the adjournment of the Council to such a late hour that we defer our comments on the same until the next issue.—Rep.]

The following claims against the city were allowed, and warrants ordered for the liquidation of the same: Gas Light and Water Company, $168 D; H. L. Pittock, advertising, $20; S. J. McCormick, stationery, $15 25; R. Pittock, rent of engine house No. 4, $30.

The following ordinances were read the first and second time:

An ordinance appropriating money to defray the expenses of repairs to streets and public property.

An ordinance appropriating money for the purchase by the city, of the Fire Engine now in use by Willamette Company No. 1.

The following ordinances passed: yeas 6, nays none:

An ordinance authorizing the Committee on Ways and Means to contract for the construction of a dredging machine.

An ordinance appropriating $15,000 for the purchase of a dredging machine.

Mr. McCraken offered a resolution authorizing a warrant for $5,000 to be drawn upon the fund for the purchase of a dredging machine to be placed in the hands of the Committee of Ways and Means, and by them paid over to the contractor of the machine, upon the approval of his bonds, as the first payment on the same.

Council adjourned.

WHO IS HE?—The Victoria papers, which seem to have more of a field for scandal than other journals on the coast, contain the denouement of an affair which has recently happened on Fort street in that city. One man and two women are said to figure conspicuously in the drama of which this is a life act. He was the proprietor of a hotel, and had been residing there with a wife with whom he had eloped from California, and was followed by a first wife whom he had deserted at that time. No names are given, but the Chronicle says he was in business at Umatilla, Oregon, about two years ago, when the first wife appeared on the scene and broke up the establishment; he then visited Victoria under an assumed name, and a similar result has followed. The affair is a very unfortunate one. The women are represented as penniless, and much sympathy is felt for both by those who have the means of knowing their circumstances. One of the Astoria revenue officers asserts that he has reason to believe the absconding individual knew in this city. Should such be the case, we would suggest that he continue his journey as speedily as possible.

GOOD IMPROVEMENT.—Rev. J. H. Devore is entitled to the greatest credit for his most praiseworthy efforts to improve his property on Jefferson, First and Second Streets. His is about the only property that has been thoroughly graded and fixed according to the surveys of the city. Rev. Mr. Rutledge, and Rev. Mr. Atkinson, before his departure, have also commenced improvements about their premises. We presume they are reminded that "uncleanness is akin to unGodliness," and will do all they can for the benefit of the city.

A PRINTING OFFICE FOR UMATILLA.—The printing office and fixtures of the late Oregon Times, in this city, have been purchased by the enterprising citizens of Umatilla, for the establishment of a tri-weekly journal at that point, and were shipped yesterday. The last "job" done by the material in Portland, the impression of which still remained upon the tympan of the press, was the announcement last week of the establishment of a match factory in the city.

THE RECEIPTS LAST EVENING.—At the Ladies' Entertainment, given in the basement of the Presbyterian Church, the sum of $156 55 in coin, and $28 in currency was realized for the benefit of the Christian Commission. The gentlemanly Ex[...] had not yet returned to this office with his report, but we are not apprehensive for his safety, and may look for him home in time for Monday's edition.

SWEEPING BLOW.—The prevailing high wind of Thursday continued yesterday, only more so, and besides sweeping our streets of accumulated dust, broke down several sign boards. The fine barber pole of Chas. F. Weigandt, on Washington street, and the signs attached, were broken down with a severe crash about ten o'clock and considerably damaged.

THE PLACE TO FIRE SALUTES.—We have been requested by many to suggest to the city authorities that hereafter, when a salute is to be fired in this city it be from the Public Plaza, and if the popgun of the Washington Artillery (?) is not sufficiently loud enough to be heard from that place, some other piece be procured.

THE CALLAO.—This staunch little propeller will be ready for business within a few days, and will be quite a handy as well a handsome craft.

TO SAIL.—The bark Almatia, Capt. Miller, will finish receiving her cargo, it is expected, so as to be able to sail this evening for San Francisco.

THE PROBABLE FATE OF LEE'S ARMY.—Now that Richmond is captured and Lee's routed and demoralized forces are compelled to save themselves by flight from the closely constricting folds of General Scott's great anaconda, the question arises, what will eventually become of them? They must surrender somewhere or disband and return to Companies and squads to their devastated districts and homes, there to realize the full extent of the horrible desolation under which they have been battling to destroy the best Government which the world ever saw. How bitter must be the reflections of those misguided, with the force and clearness of sunlight they have [...] typed upon their mind's eye what they might have been and what they now are. By the way, speaking of Daguerreotyping reminds us that F. Dalton is now taking the clearest and best Photographs ever taken in this town and as his Operator is an eccentric "cuss," [...] to-day and gone to-morrow, the public are emphatically, but respectfully recommended to go at once, in a body, and secure their pictures before it may be too late. Procrastination is said to be the thief of Time. Take care dear Public that it don't rob you out of the last chance to secure a delightful representation of your beautiful or benign countenance.

WM. BECK & CO.—This firm, No. 91 Front street, wholesale and retail dealers, appear in their advertisement of the new spring stock this morning. They are determined to maintain their well earned reputation of being the cheapest house in the State. Read their advertisement and act accordingly.

SELLING OFF AT COST.—H. W. Hyman & Co. advertise in another column that they will dispose of their entire stock of clothing furnishing goods, hats and caps, etc., at San Francisco cost, in order to close out the business. The place is on the corner of Washington and Front sts., in Col. Chapman's building.

Hebrew Benevolent Society.—Annual Meeting, at Turn Verein Hall, on Sunday, April 9th, at 1 o'clock P. M. Election of Officers.
S. GOLDSMITH, Pres't.

A subscriber at Wannonia seems to place considerable confidence in the honesty of Uncle Sam's postmasters. Last evening we received his or her letter containing a three dollar gold coin, together with an order for the OREGONIAN. However honest postmasters may be, we cannot recommend this system as the best. The money is liable to drop out of the envelope.

WEEKLY COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

PORTLAND, April 7th, 1865.

All grades of Flour have advanced and are quoted since our last quotations, and are held firm at present rates below. We have nothing new, and repeat what we have before stated, that stocks of Breadstuffs throughout the State are light. There is but a limited supply on hand in this city, and the demand of the mining regions around us will soon take a greater part of it. Holders will remain firm and not place it upon the market, at least for the present.

Bacon, Hams and Sides are most active, small lots changing hands at advance. Large amounts are held [...]

Cotton goods have materially declined. We quote the latest prices below as quoted by one of the leading wholesale houses of the city. Some change is also apparent in Willamette Woolen goods, gray blankets selling at $6 62½@$6 87½.

By the arrival of the steamer George S. Wright, Lewis, from Victoria, we have files of papers up to the day of her departure, from which we learn that produce of all kinds is advancing, and it has been thought prudent by the purchasers there to retain in market a portion of the barley lately brought by the Brewster from Chile. About $10,000 worth of the cargo will be sent to San Francisco for sale. Syrup was scarce and is reported worth $1 ℔ gal. China No. 1 Rice has advanced to 12½@13c, owing to the receipt of intelligence to the effect that the authorities of Canton have prohibited its export.

The commercial reporter of a San Francisco evening paper says:

"The markets for flour and grain, as well as for beans and potatoes, show firmness. The stock of wheat throughout the State is very light, so much so that many farmers find it difficult to procure all the seed they require for planting, and this scarcity will doubtless prevent the husbandman from sowing thousands of acres that would otherwise be planted with wheat."

The Call, commenting as follows the next day upon the above, characterizes it as "Bulling the Flour Market."

"In regard to the difficulty experienced by farmers at present in procuring wheat for planting, we quote there is considerable humbug. If they have not already planted their land, they cannot expect to raise much of a crop this season."

The Flag recently had an able article on the same subject, showing that the supply of flour and grain on hand, and to arrive, was ample to meet the requirements of the people of California, until their present abundant growing crop can be gathered. Prices were higher than any time since 1862. Hay and oats were advancing.

The Bulletin observes a great number of new brands of flour on the market, distributed among jobbers and dealers, and concludes that instead of so many more new mills being recently started, it is the re-packing of Chile from 100 ℔ sks to those holding 50 lbs, which causes the rapid increase.

The direction which any surplus flour in this market must now take with the greatest results for good and profit, seems to be the mining region east of us. On the 2d ult. we are informed that not a sack was to be obtained at Silver City, Owyhee, except what was packed in from the Valley 25 miles, in snow shoes, and it was worth about any price.

Tuesday reports confirming previous accounts were received and the article, not only been difficult to obtain in consequence of the storms, but is found to be scarce and has advanced fully 50 ℔ cent. in the Boise Basin.

Kerosene, Candles, Powder and Fuse were also in great demand at advanced prices.

Weekly Retail Family Market.

PRICES CURRENT.

FRIDAY, P. M., April 7th, 1865.

Flour has taken a rise, in proportion to the advance of jobbing trade prices for the past few days, and to-day we quote it at $3 75, $3 50@$3 25 ℔ qr. sk., according to the grade.

Apples and Vegetables are becoming very scarce, and as the season is nearly over for the old stock we begin to anticipate the growing crop. Early Vegetables and fruits of California culture will very soon arrive in abundance.

Fish have been in market from the Victoria fisheries, besides which we notice at a few of the stalls a supply of clams, etc., but not of a very excellent quality.

Pheasants and Grouse have been offered by the hunter at 75c to $1 ℔ pair.

Eggs and Chickens are both plenty and cheap.

BY virtue of a decree of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Multnomah County, in a suit wherein George Gotz is plaintiff and John and Susannah Hankins are defendants, an execution issued out of said Court upon said decree, and to me directed, commanding me to collect by a sale of the following described real estate, the said judgment amounting to five hundred and forty nine dollars and ninety cents ($549 90) and interest thereon from November 12, 1863, at eighteen per cent. per annum, and costs and disbursement. I will expose to public sale, in front of the Court House door, in Multnomah County, on Saturday, the 8th day of April, A. D., 1865, between the hours of 9 o'clock, A. M., and 4 o'clock, P. M., the following described real estate: The north half of the north east quarter of section 26, township 1 north, range 1 west of Willamette meridian, containing eighty (80) acres, situated in Multnomah County, State of Oregon.
JACOB STITZEL,
Sheriff of Multnomah County, Oregon.

MRS. A. W. HICKLIN,

PHYSICIAN AND ELECTRICIAN,

No. 96 Front street, (up-stairs), one door north of Ringsley's Brick Building.

MRS. HICKLIN WILL CURE ALL ACUTE NERVOUS and Chronic Diseases with Electricity and Water, without the use of medicine, and will apply the Electricity according to Prof. W. R. Wells' theory. Mrs. H. is experienced in the practice of medicine, but has done almost entirely away with its use, believing that ELECTRICITY IS THE ONLY SAFE REMEDIAL AGENT for the Cure of Diseases. Medical men generally suppose that there are many causes for the various diseases in existence, and that one disease may have various causes in nature to produce it. We contend that there is but one grand cause for all disease, and this is a loss of balance of the two sources of Electricity in the part or parts diseased.

We apply the current with sponges and never shock the patient; and would have you bear in mind that we have one of Prof. Wells' Double-Current Electro Galvanic Batteries, and can purify the blood, remove mercury from, build up and give tone to the system. We can cure the worst cases of Rheumatism, Sore Eyes, Deafness and all other curable diseases that the human family is subject to. When the gossiping part of society say they have no faith in women, tell them we do not require any faith, but just give it a trial. You need not ask your physician if it will do you any good, for he knows nothing about the use and practice of one of Prof. Wells' batteries.

☞ We are prepared to Board and Lodge those who come for treatment, and will spare no pains in supplying the best Hygienic fare. We shall require terms of treatment invariably in advance. All communications in regard to treatment, should be addressed,
MRS. A. W. HICKLIN,
Portland, Oregon.

Prof. Halstead's Girl.

A [illegible] and [illegible] old chap was Joel Shellenbarger, [illegible] mulish [illegible]. He had made his way in this world by the doggedest obstinacy [illegible], and [illegible] that [illegible] upon it. Joel's mulishness had largely been the making of him, though you mightn't have considered the little [illegible] as much of a [illegible].

Joel had one son, a handsome, clear headed active young man [illegible] and as set in his way when he chose to have [illegible] had proved a great assistance to his father in working the farm, and his [illegible] made the most of, the old man [illegible] to keep him at home with him some time after he ought to have been doing for himself. [illegible] possessions [illegible] nothing in the world save a horse which some neighbor had given him when it was a sickly colt and some sheep obtained [illegible] in the same manner, and the old man grudged him even the keeping of these.

Joel Shellenbarger and his son Anson differed often, but there were two points on which the differ [illegible] to something serious. The first point concerned education, for which the old man had profound contempt and the son had not. There was a college some dozen miles from the Shellenbarger farm, and thither—having thoroughly prepared himself, in spite of fatherly opposition, Anson betook himself, in spite of the same opposition, and by one contrivance and another, and helped out by his mother's small marketing, kept himself there till he graduated. Joel Shellenbarger contested the ground inch by inch, but afraid in his selfishness to do any more than to be obstinate, lest his son should leave him. That was the first point of difference, and that was how Anson settled it. The second point was not likely to be of so easy an arrangement.

At college Anson had found something besides graduating honors. He had chanced upon a very charming combination of brown curls and azure eyes—a red-lipped, dimple-cheeked fairy, daughter of one of the professors, who, instead of curving her dainty lip at the homespun suit which his poverty and his father's niggardliness compelled him to wear, never seemed to be conscious of any thing or anybody else when he was by.

In short, Anson had found some one to love, somebody that he wanted to marry, as he gravely informed his father. You should have seen the old man's eyes; it was a mercy they were fast in their sockets. Here was gratitude! This Anson, having already defrauded his old father of so much of his time, was going now to set his seal upon his absurdity and disobedience by "marrying a town girl!" Bad enough to marry any one, seeing his father wasn't through with him yet—But a town girl! He should never consent, and every Shellenbarger acre should go to strangers before Anson should have one, if he persisted in an idea so ridiculous!

"And pray, what harm is there in being a town girl?" questioned Barbie Halstead, when Anson told her, half-laughing, half-vexed, and altogether rueful—for without assistance from his father he could not marry Barbie for a long time yet. Anson laughed again, but with some embarrassment, saying, "My father is afraid that a daughter of Professor Halstead would not make a very good farmer's wife."

"Does he think—?" Barbie hesitated, looking with smiling perplexity at her little white hands.

"That these pretty hands don't know much about brewing and baking, etc?—Exactly; I believe he thinks just that."

"Then he thinks wrong," said Barbie, reddening, and looking up at her lover with a comical little pout. "Didn't I hear you say you needed a servant at home!—I've a mind to go down and offer for the place."

Anson laughed again enjoyingly.

"We need one badly enough but my father will not suffer one inside the house."

"Why, how do you live then? Who cooks for you now that your mother is ill?"

"We do our own cooking," Anson said with a return of the half smiling, half embarrassed expression. "We cook for ourselves or do without."

The very day succeeding the one which witnessed this conversation, Anson was at home busying himself over some culinary operations when the outside door, which stood ajar, was noiselessly opened and a singularly attired form presented itself on the threshold. It wore a red and green plaid dress, the checks very large, a yellow shawl, and a very frowzy and tumbled white bonnet. A red feather, nearly as long as Anson's arm, streamed from one side, and within the brim flopped the immense frill of a cap which clung close around the face of the stranger. The face—what could be seen of it—was a very curious one to be inside of such a bonnet and cap. Just now, as she surveyed the kitchen and Anson—herself still unseen—the muscles about her mouth twitched nervously, and her eyes twinkled with roguish brightness.

Presently Anson looked that way.

Instantly the face took lugubrious length, and coming into the room the girl said, insinuatingly, but without looking at him:

"An' would ye be a hirin' a sarvant the day?" And stood fidgeting with the fringe of her shawl.

"I believe not," said Anson coloring with some annoyance, perhaps at the nature of his employment.

"Shure, sir, an' the lady that sint me—God bless her swate eyes!—said you'd be sure to take me on the recommendation, which I has in my pocket—and here 'tis now."

She gave him a little note which proved to be from Barbie Halstead. Anson read with a very love-like carefulness, but shook his head.

"I'm very sorry, my good girl, but we do not wish to hire a servant."

"Belike your father mayn't object whin he sees me," the girl persisted.

Anson looked at the soiled white bonnet and the red feather, and repressing a smile, wondered what his father would say. But was of too kindly a nature to be willing to expose this servant to his father's rough manner. He repeated what he had said before assuring her that it would be of no use to see his father.

The girl stood a moment—"If ye plaze, sir, I'll just see him a moment. Belike he may take a likin' to the look of me."

And before he could reply she had crossed the room, and stood upon the threshold of the next. Anson followed presently curious to see what sort of a reception she would get.

"Shure an I'll do more'n that I'm worth to yees," she was saying with innocent emphasis as Anson entered. She talked rapidly, pouring out such a torrent of words that the old man could not by any possibility slip one in among them, and sat regarding her with an expression of the most ludicrous astonishment.

This remarkable volubility completely baffled the old man's slowness. He could not say a word if he wished to, and when she concluded at last with "I kin make flap-jacks and corn bread that'd bring the very eyes out iv yer head, and make ye swaller yer tongue with delightsomeness" (if he had a weakness it was for flap-jacks and corn bread), he could only twirl his thumbs in a sore of delicious awe and ask her with a cunning smile "how much she expected to get for doing all them things."

"Seventy-five cints a week," was the prompt reply.

With a still more cunning laugh Joel offered her half the money. Greatly to his amazement, she agreed at once, and he found himself to use his own expression, "in for it." To add to his chagrin, Anson stood by, laughing with intense enjoyment.

But the girl, without further ado, proceeded to disencumber herself of bonnet and shawl, and vanish in the direction of the kitchen before anything could be said. As she shut the door she stole a glance at Anson that made him start and bite his lips, and presently he stole kitchenward also. She was already at work, handling the broom like an adept, and grumbling in her rich brogue at the dust that had accumulated in the corners; for the extent of Anson's and his father's sweeping had been to brush the corner of the room, somewhat to the disadvantage of the rest.

She did not look up as Anson entered, but he sat down deliberately and furtively watched her. For some time, she seemed unconscious of his scrutiny, but she presently turned, and clasping both hands upon the top of the broom handle, said with a mixture of bravado and archness too natural to be mistaken.

"Well, Anson, what do you think?"

The young man laughed and looked annoyed in the same breath.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

MANUFACTORY

182, 184, 186, 188, 190 and 192 Mott street, New York.

MOTTO—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."

Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines [illegible] purposes, but it is only of late that the public began to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.

We would ask for our Letter A Machines the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, making, like them, the interlocked stitch, and are designed to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.

FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.

☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAPER, which is entirely devoted to the subject. IT WILL BE SENT GRATIS.

So Called "Fire Proof Safes."

On the 16th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the rest. We trusted our books, papers and all in the safe. After the fire this so called "safe" was taken from the ruins, and on opening it we found that

Everything had been Destroyed.

We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed McKenzie & Harris just opening their safe TILTON & McFARLAND'S make, and its contents were found to be

In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible materials in Messrs. McK. & H.'s cellar—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we losing in the clothing business and had but little in the cellar. There was another of Lillie's safes were subjected to the same fire faring, however, no better than ours.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servants,
(Signed.) GEO. L. CHESBORO & CO

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man, he stands erect, he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active, and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor.—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
